Greenfield and Pulloxhill Academy

About

Greenfield and Pulloxhill Academy are based in Bedfordshire, England and consists of two schools that are part of a Trust. Both schools are very similar in many ways and work together as a team very closely throughout everything they do. Staff work across both schools and do as many activities as they can together.

It upholds all of the same values and ethos in both schools, to nurture, inspire and flourish their students.

The Challenge

The teachers at Greenfield and Pulloxhill Academy are aware of how new technologies are changing education. The way of teaching and the dynamics in the classroom must be adapted to the opportunities of the digital age and in order to offer the highest educational standards to their students they needed to replace their current whiteboards with a modern piece of technology.

The schools were looking for a digital tool with which pupils could interact, and which would also allow them to share educational materials in a digital format, such as Google Classroom, to work on the different aspects included in the national educational programmes.

The Solution

In its efforts to offer the best teaching to their students, Greenfield and Pulloxhill Academy is investing in its facilities and equipment.

After previously purchasing a different brand, the TG Systems sales team were able to offer the Academy an alternative display, that was more powerful and cost-effective.

After removing the old equipment and securing the brackets in position, the Vestel 65" Non-Interactive 4K professional display was put in place by the TG Systems Field Support team.

Greenfield and Pulloxhill Academy

The Vestel 65" Non-Interactive 4K professional display have proved a valuable tool. Our teachers have given positive feedback on how easy they are to use and our children love every aspect of it."

The Results

The Vestel 65" Non-Interactive 4K professional display has found a natural home in the classroom. Designed with the education market in mind it is going to revolutionise the way the teachers of the Academy teach forever.

It supports teaching and helps increase student engagement, encourages active learning in students of all ages, levels, abilities and disabilities. It awakens their curiosity and motivates them to learn and it will allow them to continue to be nurtured, inspire and flourish.
