St Margaret's School Case study

Background

St Margaret's School is based in Bushey, Hertfordshire. TG Systems was approached when the existing supplier could not install screens in the timeframe the school needed. The school was going through a large refresh program, TG Systems came to the rescue by visiting site, listening closely to the customers' requests and concepts on the expected installation process and working with other suppliers to deliver an installation the school required.

The Challenge

During this time there were technical issues which caused concern, TG Systems supported the school approaching suppliers and manufacturers, to clearly determine the fault and provide an agreed solution, helping the school in every way.

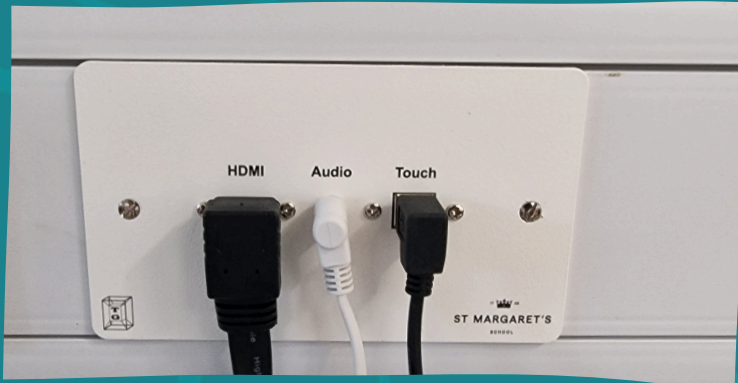

The Solution

The team installed Interactive Touch Screens in September 2022. St Margaret's, confident with the service we provided, we were asked to carry out further installations, in August 2023, as part of their continuing improvement program. Additionally, we installed and created specialised and bespoke faceplates which allowed the school to have a cohesive theme throughout their premises.

The Results

We would like to thank the school for its hospitality throughout this installation process and its belief in TG. We pride ourselves on using the best quality cables and products, pre-testing before site visits and testing all installations once completed, we continually develop our business with in-house training adhering to the latest methods to provide a trouble-free installation, and we can work outside school hours to minimise disruption, to keep disruption as minimal as possible is of paramount importance to us.

“We are very happy to have you as one of our trusted contractors who genuinely cares about customer service”
